Thank you for the TRIX ! I would like to use it for long term swing trading on 4hr & 1day tme frames. Question: Would I leave the number preferences as downloaded for both, or increase them for the 1day timeframe. Thanks

Does this script repaint? Results are excellent and could definitely be used to great success in accordance with other indicators

@oahutradingprofit, of course. It would be out of the ordinary to release full-featured indicator for free.

@everget, I appreciate your work on the indicators and fair enough if you want to make a living from them... But why don't people like you just mention the repainting upfront and make it clear?? Huge losses of money will be occurring because you withold this information....

@cartoonheart, but why don't people like you just forward-test the indicator on a paper account before real trading? The so called "repainting" may happen on the last bars only, because the indicator is based on the close prices that can change during session
